Brexit Statement

As a service provider with many customers in the UK, UT24 Ltd has taken steps to prepare for Brexit, whatever the outcome, Deal or No Deal. We have made plans to protect our customers for a continuation of service and supply of equipment throughout the fire detection, security, access control and CCTV industries.

Our current workforce will not be affected by any decisions made by the Government with regards to the withdrawal agreement and the EU Nationals. Our Company employs all staff directly and with the support of subcontractors who are always subject to stringent checks to ensure that they comply with UK Law.

Whilst we have not taken any steps to purchase additional equipment to cover the transition period of exit, we do have firm commitments from our Suppliers who have increased their stock levels considerably, that there should be no issues with regards to availability and that equipment will be held in warehouses within the UK.

Although much will be determined by the outcome of the UK Governments decision, United Technologies 24 Ltd has put in place a secure and robust plan to ensure our customers are not affected. We believe that we are prepared as much as possible and continue to monitor all Government announcements closely.
